

MARKETS INFORMATION SHEET

MARKETS FOR CARTONS

Paper mills view cartons as a valuable source of fiber because they offer high quality virgin bleached long fiber, which can be used in several applications including tissue and toweling products, de-inked pulp, and green building products such as wallboard.

There are domestic and international markets that will buy cartons from the U.S. and Canada including markets in Mexico, Thailand, Korea, Malaysia, and a variety of US locations (below). Each mill has unique arrangements for their supply of feedstock, including cartons, often working through their own broker network. Contacting individual mills directly to sell single loads is not advised. Please refer to Resources to Move Cartons in the next section for further assistance in moving cartons.
